Dr. Pipes Tells Why The Polio Vaccine Is Safe

The present Polio Vaccine is the end result of sixteen years of scientific research in Polio. This is not the first Polio vaccine. Others have been made and discarded during the past three years because they were either not effective or were not safe for human use.

"This vaccine has been more difficult to make because three different types of virus are involved. However, this is the only way in which the vaccine is basically different from the vaccine given for Lockjaw, Typhoid, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, and other rarer diseases."

Dr. R. Van Riper who is Medical Director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who is the developer of this vaccine, the United States Public Health Service, and the various Commercial Companies are all agreed.

Stations to delivery service have been granted occurring on January 16, 1953; October, 1953 and January 15, 1954.

Today mail is delivered to practically all areas within the corporate limits, and including Okeechobee and Ocala labor camps.

With only 657 postoffice boxes available, prior to the delivery service a large percentage of the population could not get mail at General Delivery, which necessitated the using of three clerks at one window to speed up the job of the lines that continually poured in during the winter season. Necessity forced the initiation of delivery service and since then patrons of the office have complimented the service now rendered in house delivery.

In 1940 when the office advanced to second class the personnel consisted of the postmaster, two regular clerks and one substitute, who worked about four hours a day. Today the personnel consists of the postmaster, assistant postmaster, 4 regular clerks, one regular carrier, and three substitutes who perform the duties of both clerks and carriers.

In addition to sale of stamps, revenue from metered and non-metered matter and box rent which makes up postal receipts, postal savings business in the winter time will double the amount taken out and stay about normal during the summer time, with over $100,000 to the credit of depositors on file. The COD and money order business at this office far exceeds this type of business at a small office. Approximately over one-half million dollars during the year is invested in this office in money orders, with over 40,000 orders issued.

Last year on Saturday before Easter all record high of 187 COD parcels were delivered. Average COD parcel delivery daily total about 50. Receipts show that each Monday during the season about 150 COD parcels are received for delivery, and on hand records show over 500 on hand during the season which drops to about ninety during the summer months.

Sylda Heights and residences on N. W. Ave. L are expected to be included in the delivery service in the fall which will practically include all areas in the city, according to Mr. Farnell.

SENATOR SMATHERS EXPLAINS "BONUS" IN EXCISE REDUCTION

How the new excise reduction law will benefit every citizen will be described by Senator George Smathers in his weekly radio report from Washington which will be heard over WSWN at 3:15 next Wednesday.

The senator will be interviewed by Washington newsmen and the recorded press conference will be brought to this area by transcription. It will be broadcast locally by the station management as a public service.

The $99-million-dollar tax reduction bill was signed last Wednesday by President Eisenhower, and the cut went into effect on April 1. The measure reduces to 10 percent the tax on transportation costs, telephone and telegraph bills, and a long list of retail items such as toiletries, luggage, fur, jewelry, etc. It exempts from admission taxes college football games, small theatres charging not more than 50 cent, museums operated by government or nonprofit institutions and games played for the benefit of crippled children's hospitals.

It retains the present tax on liquors, cabarets and night Clubs, post season bowl games and others where no special hardship exists.

GENE KNIGHT TELLS OF WATER SHORTAGE

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Knight received word from their son, Gene Knight, who lives in Lewisburg, West Virginia of a rather unusual situation, concerning the water supply there. Knight is in trucking business and has hauled millions of gallons of water in the past year to farm homes using cisterns in the Greenbrier Valley area.

He has a special tank car and facilities for loading trucks rapidly. Last year his water bill reached a half million gallon per month based on consumption. He was the greatest purchaser of water in the city.

There has been a heavy rainfall in the past two weeks which is believed will make up for the approximately 15 inches short of normal rainfall this spring.

POSTAL RECEIPTS

which was almost double the population of 3000 in 1940.

It is estimated that in the summer months the population of Belle Glade is around 8,000 and in the fall when migratory workers from all over the United States follow the harvesting of various crops, would increase the population to approximately 15,000.

At this time receipts will almost double in volume from the lowest quarter of the year, to the highest.

According to Mr. Farnell, who has been with the service since 1930, the post office climbed from a fourth to a third class office in 1931, and has increased steadily since that time.

In 1940 post office receipts were enough to become a second class office and from then on increased gradually each year until 1947 and 1948 when the high waters from excessive rainfall during the late summer and fall of those years caused a drop in postal receipts which were recovered in 1949.

The office was advanced to first class in 1953.

April 1, 1950, marked the first delivery service in the city, six months prior to moving into new headquarters at the present location. Since that time three

THREE STREETS GET NEW TAR TOP COAT

The main residential streets in South Bay have recently received the new look. Three streets, Boles Ave., Lake Ave. and Joe Lewis Ave. were paved several years ago and topped with a tar surface. The work was financed by the city council assisted by the county road department, which furnished the necessary equipment and also assisted with the hauling of rock.

This week the county road department equipment also was used to lay a top coat of tar and slag to the above three streets which total approximately one mile of city paving. Since the two cross street highways run through the business district and the county road department last year paved West Canal Street this improvement now gives South Bay more than three miles of hard surfaced streets. The county road department some years ago paved Palm Beach Road from the post-office to the Rosenwald School. The city street department completed the cross streets linking the main streets two years ago to give the town excellent streets.

SOUTH BAY WMU HOSTESS TO P. L. ASSOCIATION

The South Bay WMU was hostess to the Palm Lake Association at the South Bay Baptist Church in an all day session last Thursday.

A sandwich luncheon was served during the non intermission with the South Bay members responsible for the dessert and the drinks.

Mrs. A. N. Lamoureux welcomed the association to South Bay. The Rev. H. R. Harless, pastor of the Lake Harbor Baptist Church sang, "The Holy City." Mrs. John Cooper presented the afternoon devotionals.

Presidents leadership conferences were conducted and routine business transacted. The highlight of the meeting was a talk by Mrs. A. R. Gilchrist, a government photographer, who has recently returned from some years duty in Manaus, Brazil.

She held her audience spell bound as she related personal experiences and human interest stories of the life of the people in the Amazon River valley. She made her headquarters in the orphan children's home conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Glen D. Hardy, who have been serving as missionaries there since 1937 and assisted them in their work in her leisure time.

Many pictures of life and people in Brazil and an elaborate exhibit of the beautiful handicrafts done by the children in the home were displayed to illustrate her talk. Mrs. Vance Woodard of Lake Worth reported the highlights on the State Woman's Missionary Union meeting at Daytona Beach.

WHO IS THE "GOAT"

This is the law under which the $5 tag has been issued to more than 800 trucks in the Glades, according to reports, and for which "papers" have been served on many Glades citizens.

The Attorney General, it is reported, has ruled that most of the trucks in the Glades farmers' operations are "operated primarily upon the highways" and therefore not subject to the $5 tag.

The lawmakers of our state are to be congratulated on helping the Glades farmer — if they did help them—along with the operators of "goats" and lumber trucks of our northern counties.

The author of the bill, who must have wanted to help the farmers, or the bill would not have been introduced, probably was in a hurry when he wrote the paragraph about covering the Glades farmers' trucks along with the "goats."

In the haste of writing the bill — it must be that — fortunately for the long-haul truckers and trailers, the wording of the bill causes no confusion about reducing their cost from $1.75 to $1.10 per CWT.

Maybe they had an attorney or a lobbyist there to see that their paragraph was written so that there is no confusion.

Wonder who wrote the truckers part of the bill, wonder who wrote the farmers' part of the bill, wonder who took care of the goats — we just wonder "Who Is The Goat?"

If the Attorney General were requested to do so, he might ask the Supreme Court to interpret the provisions of the bill for the benefit of a lot of folks without any legal expense to any farmer who thinks he is entitled to the same kind of downward-in-cost treatment as the large truck operators.
